

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CARL SIMMONS,

Petitioner,

v.

DAVIS,

Respondent.

Civil No. 08-1127 W (POR)

ORDER DISMISSING CASE WITHOUT PREJUDICE

Petitioner, a state prisoner proceeding pro se, has filed a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2254.

FAILURE TO SATISFY FILING FEE REQUIREMENT

Petitioner has failed to pay the $5.00 filing fee and has failed to move to proceed in forma pauperis. Because this Court cannot proceed until Petitioner has either paid the $5.00 filing fee or qualified to proceed in forma pauperis, the Court DISMISSES the case without prejudice. See Rule 3(a), 28 U.S.C. foll. § 2254. If Petitioner wishes to proceed with this case, he must submit, no later than September 24, 2008, a copy of this Order with the $5.00 fee or with adequate proof of his inability to pay the fee.

FAILURE TO NAME A PROPER RESPONDENT

Review of the Petition reveals that Petitioner has failed to name a proper respondent. On federal habeas, a state prisoner must name the state officer having custody of him as the respondent. Ortiz-Sandoval v. Gomez, 81 F.3d 891, 894 (9th Cir. 1996) (citing Rule 2(a), 28

1 U.S.C. foll. § 2254). “The ‘state officer having custody’ may be ‘either the warden of the
2 institution in which the petitioner is incarcerated . . . or the chief officer in charge of state
3 penal institutions.’” Id. (quoting Rule 2(a), 28 U.S.C. foll. § 2254 advisory committee’s 4 note).

5 Here, Petitioner incorrectly named “Davis” as Respondent. In order for this Court to 6 entertain the Petition filed in this action, Petitioner must name the warden currently in charge
7 of the state correctional facility in which Petitioner is presently confined or the Director of 8 the California Department of Corrections. Brittingham v. United States, 982 F.2d 378, 379
9 (9th Cir. 1992) (per curiam).

10 VENUE

11 Further, it is impossible for this Court to determine whether it has proper jurisdiction over
12 this case. A petition for writ of habeas corpus may be filed in the United States District Court
13 of either the judicial district in which the petitioner is presently confined or the judicial district
14 in which he was convicted and sentenced. See 28 U.S.C. § 2241(d); Braden v. 30th Judicial 15 Circuit Court, 410 U.S. 484, 497 (1973). Here, Petitioner lists his address at Calipatria State
16 Prison (pet. at 1) which is located in Imperial County and therefore within the jurisdictional
17 boundaries of this Court. See 28 U.S.C. § 84(d). However, in the body of the Petition, Petitioner
18 states he is confined a Wasco State Prison (pet. at 2), which is located in Kern County and within 19 the jurisdictional boundaries of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of 20 California. See 28 U.S.C. § 84(b).

21 Finally, when a habeas petitioner is challenging a judgment of conviction, the district
22 court of the district in which the judgment of conviction was entered is a more convenient forum
23 because of the accessibility of evidence, records and witnesses. Thus, it is generally the practice
24 of the district courts in California to transfer habeas actions questioning judgments of conviction
25 to the district in which the judgment was entered. See Braden, 410 U.S. at 497, 499 n.15 (stating 26 that a court can, of course, transfer habeas cases to the district of conviction which is ordinarily 27 a more convenient forum); Laue v. Nelson, 279 F. Supp. 265, 266 (N.D. Cal. 1968).

28 ///

Here, it is again impossible to discern where Petitioner suffered the conviction and sentence he is now attempting to challenge. He lists a superior court case number that appears to be from Santa Barbara Superior Court (pet. at 2) which is in the jurisdictional boundaries of the United States District Court for the Central District, Eastern Division. 28 U.S.C. § 84(c)(1). However, he also states that he has a case in the Superior Court of Sacramento (pet. at 2) which is within the jurisdictional boundaries of the United States District Court for the Eastern District 28 U.S.C. §84(b). The Court cannot move forward with the Petition until Petitioner makes it clear where he suffered the conviction he is now challenging and where he his confined.

FAILURE TO STATE A COGNIZABLE CLAIM

Finally, Rule 2(c) of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases states that the petition “shall set forth in summary form the facts supporting each of the grounds . . . specified [in the petition].” Rule 2(c), 28 U.S.C. foll. § 2254. See also Boehme v. Maxwell, 423 F.2d 1056, 1058 (9th Cir. 1970) (trial court’s dismissal of federal habeas proceeding affirmed where petitioner made conclusory allegations instead of factual allegations showing that he was entitled to relief). Here, Petitioner has violated Rule 2(c). Although Petitioner does not fail to state generalized grounds for relief, he does fails to provide specific factual allegations in support of such grounds.

While courts should liberally interpret pro se pleadings with leniency and understanding, this should not place on the reviewing court the entire onus of ferreting out grounds for relief. Cf. Burkey v. Deeds, 824 F. Supp. 190, 193 (D. Nev. 1993) (finding that courts do not have entire onus of creating federal claim for petitioner). The Court finds that the Petition contains conclusory allegations without any specific facts in support of relief. A federal court may not entertain a petition that contains allegations which are conclusory.

This Court would have to engage in a tenuous analysis in order to attempt to identify and make sense of the Petition and its numerous attachments. In order to satisfy Rule 2(c), Petitioner must point to a “real possibility of constitutional error.” Cf. Blackledge v. Allison, 431 U.S. 63, 75 n.7 (1977) (internal quotation marks omitted). Facts must be stated, in the petition, with sufficient detail to enable the Court to determine, from the face of the petition, whether further

1 habeas corpus review is warranted. Adams v. Armontrout, 897 F.2d 332, 334 (8th Cir. 1990).
2 Moreover, the allegations should be sufficiently specific to permit the respondent to assert
3 appropriate objections and defenses. Harris v. Allen, 739 F. Supp. 564, 565 (W.D. Okla. 1989).
4 Here, the lack of grounds for relief in the Petition prevents the Respondent from being able to
5 assert appropriate objections and defenses.

6 Due to Petitioner's unsatisfactory showing, the Court dismisses the action without
7 prejudice. Should Petitioner decide to file a new petition, he is advised to clearly and succinctly
8 state all grounds for relief using the First Amended Petition form sent to Petitioner with this 9 order.

10 CONCLUSION

11 For the above reasons, the Petition is DISMISSED without prejudice and with leave to 12 amend. In order to have his case reopened Petitioner must, no later than September 24, 2008,
13 (1) pay the filing fee or provide adequate proof of his inability to pay, and (2) file a First
14 Amended Petition which cures the deficiencies set forth above. For Petitioner's convenience,
15 the Clerk of Court shall attach a blank First Amended Petition form and a blank Application to 16 Proceed In Forma Pauperis to this Order.

17 IT IS SO ORDERED.
